

Degrees and Certificates in Humane Education

Learn how to take your compassion and convictions and turn them into action through education.

Offered through a partnership with Valparaiso University, IHE graduate programs are designed to give you the skills you need to integrate humane education deeply into your teaching, work, life, community and the world.

“At its core, humane education uses the world as the classroom. This is why I am a humane educator. I see the study of the world and the challenges we face as the most important educational journey we can undertake. If we don’t modify our lessons, our teaching, and ultimately our schools to this end we will not be successful in making the world a more compassionate place.”

Christopher Greenslate, M.Ed. graduate, high school teacher

TO LEARN MORE & APPLY:

www.HumaneEducation.org
Institute for Humane Education (IHE)
P.O. Box 260
Surry, Maine 04684
(207) 667-1025

IHE students and graduates have incorporated humane education into a variety of careers, such as classroom and non-traditional teaching, starting businesses, founding non-profits, writing, film-making and other arts, and synthesizing it into social work, law, and health care.

Programs Offered:

1. Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Humane Education
2. Master of Arts (M.A.) in Humane Education
3. M.Ed. in Inst. Leadership w/a concentration in Humane Education
4. M.A. in Liberal Studies with a concentration in Humane Education
5. Graduate Certificate in Humane Education (credit bearing either as stand-alone or added to an existing degree)

Core Courses essential to all programs include: • Introduction to Humane Education • Environmental Ethics • Animal Protection • Human Rights • Culture and Change

IHE's Graduate Programs feature:

- Online format, so that you can take the program from anywhere
- Flexible curriculum that you can modify to meet your needs
- IHE-trained faculty who are pioneers in the humane education movement
- One-week residency, which offers immersive, hands-on experience
- Online opportunities to connect with humane educators and concerned citizens across the globe
- Resources to help you better bring humane education into your life and work.
- The degrees often lead to salary increases

The Institute for Humane Education (IHE) is a non-profit, 501(c)(3) educational organization dedicated to creating a world of solutionaries who have the knowledge, tools, and motivation to build a healthy, humane, restorative world for all. Headquartered in Surry, Maine, IHE has been training humane educators and promoting humane education since 1996. Humane education approaches human rights, environmental preservation and animal protection as interconnected and integral dimensions of a healthy, just and humane society.