

Teaching for a Positive Future

For educators who want to inspire their students to become leaders and changemakers for a healthy, just, compassionate world.

Feb. 6–Mar. 16 • July 9–Aug. 3 • Oct. 8–Nov. 16, 2012

– Learn to teach about social justice, environmental ethics, and animal protection. – Build increased relevance into your curriculum across disciplines. – Empower your students to think critically and creatively about the pressing issues of our time. – Bring compassion and other humane principles into the school environment and explore how to solve problems that benefit all.

“Excellent course! The activities and resources were appropriate and useful for a broad range of educators including K-12, college and homeschool instructors. It was easy to personalize each activity, making it directly relevant to specific topics and courses. I enjoyed being part of the warm and supportive online community that developed throughout the course.”

Stacy Hoult-Saros, College Professor

COST: $135

TO LEARN MORE & REGISTER:

www.HumaneEducation.org

Institute for Humane Education (IHE)

P.O. Box 260

Surry, Maine 04684

(207) 667-1025

INSTITUTE FOR HUMANE EDUCATION

If you haven't taken an online course before, be prepared for a dynamic learning experience. Classes are interactive and quickly build a powerful, passionate and cohesive community for learning.

What to Expect in this Online Course:

- an easy to use course website with free training and support
- powerful connections with people from all over the world who share your passions
- open and well-moderated discussions throughout your coursework
- the flexibility to learn on your own schedule
- challenging, meaningful, and inspiring coursework
- support and mentoring from an IHE-trained humane educator
- a curriculum developed by the humane education leaders and pioneers at IHE
- a book, curriculum, resource kit and bonus exercises to keep you inspired and empowered well beyond the completion of the course
- an option to receive a certificate of completion and/or Continuing Education Credits (CEUs) available

The Institute for Humane Education (IHE) is a non-profit, 501(c)(3) educational organization dedicated to creating a world of solutionaries who have the knowledge, tools, and motivation to build a healthy, humane, restorative world for all. Headquartered in Surry, Maine, IHE has been training humane educators and promoting humane education since 1996. Humane education approaches human rights, environmental preservation and animal protection as interconnected and integral dimensions of a healthy, just and humane society.